Summary of the Event	The Department of Computer Applications conducted Student Enablement program in association with Infosys Spring board on 17 th and 18 th July 2025 under COE-Data Science and Artificial Intelligence. The Trainers from Infosys springboard trained the students through Virtual platform and explain the Python foundation courses. This Course consisting of 3 certification courses and one proctored course. After completion of the certification courses video proctored course will enable so that students can be well prepared for the examination. Students were enthusiastic to learn more about python. This program helped the students to overcome the difficulty of writhing logic in python.

COE:- Data Science and Artificial Intelligence

Topic:- virtual hands on session of python programming in association with Infosys springboard

The session provided a clear understanding of python basics with practical examples. The session boosted confidence in coding and motivated me to explore data science further.

A big thanks to the department and Infosys for this valuable experience.
