The program focuses on practical approaches to communication, delegation, team building, motivation, conflict resolution, performance management, and decision-making. Participants learnt how to plan, organize, monitor, and improve work processes for better productivity and efficiency. Through real-world examples, workplace situations, discussions, and practical activities, participants understood handling managerial responsibilities. The program bridges the gap between technical expertise and managerial effectiveness, preparing freshers to lead teams successfully and achieve organizational goals. 53 students were participated.
