24.	Summary of the Event (Around 100 words)	As a part of the Learning and Development (L&D) Student Engagement initiative, the II Semester MBA students of the Department of Management Studies, Dayananda Sagar College of Arts, Science and Commerce, conducted seven experiential and activity-based workshops for the students of BNM Degree College on 6th August 2026. The workshops were designed to make learning enjoyable, participative and practical by integrating management concepts such as teamwork, leadership, communication, decision-making, creativity, problem-solving and resource management into engaging activities. The "Battle for Bids – Mock IPL Auction" was a very good workshop that introduced participants to strategic talent selection, budgeting, negotiation and decision-making through a simulated IPL auction, demonstrating the importance of building a balanced and effective team. "The Goose's Golden Egg Nest" was a very good team-building activity that enabled participants to explore risk assessment, resource management, negotiation and sustainable decision-making while constructing a nest using limited resources. "Marshmallow Marvels" was a very good and highly engaging workshop that challenged participants to construct a tower within time and resource constraints, thereby developing leadership, planning, teamwork, creativity, innovation and problem-solving skills. "The Blind Square Challenge" was a very good experiential workshop that emphasized trust, active listening, communication, leadership and coordination as participants worked together to form a perfect square while blindfolded. "The Minefield Navigation Challenge" was a very good and exciting activity in which participants navigated an obstacle-filled environment through verbal instructions, strengthening trust, communication, teamwork, strategic thinking and decision-making under pressure.

No.	Particulars	Event related Details
		"Secret Blueprint" was a very good communication and coordination exercise in which participants recreated a model based solely on verbal instructions, highlighting the importance of clarity, active listening, role clarity, teamwork and accurate execution. Finally, "Trash to Treasure" was a very good creative and sustainability-oriented workshop that encouraged participants to transform waste materials into useful products while developing creativity, innovation, teamwork, resource optimization, problem-solving and environmental awareness. Overall, the seven workshops provided the BNM Degree College students with a rich experiential learning experience, enabling them to learn important interpersonal and managerial skills through active participation rather than conventional classroom instruction. The initiative also provided the MBA student trainers with an opportunity to apply their own L&D knowledge by planning, facilitating and evaluating learning activities, thereby strengthening their leadership, communication, facilitation and training competencies.

Dear Ma'am,

Sub: Requesting permission to conduct Student Engagement Workshops at your esteemed institution on 6th August, 2026

We, from the Department of Management Studies (MBA – Bangalore University) under Dayananda Sagar College of Arts, Science & Commerce would like to introduce ourselves as a leading Business School located at Shavige Malleshwara Hills, Kumaraswamy layout, Bangalore.

Now, we invite your kind attention to the discussion with you regarding the subject matter. We seek your kind permission to allow 50 of our 2nd Semester MBA students to conduct a few Student Engagement Workshops for the 1st year degree students of your esteemed Institution.

The details of the workshops to be conducted will be conveyed shortly.

Once again, we request your kind permission for a small span of approximately 5 hours on 06.08.2026 to conduct the student engagement workshops for the 1st year degree students.

Looking forward to receiving your positive response that would ultimately lead to a fun filled and engaging day with the students.

With warm regards,
