23.	Summary of the Event (Around 100 words)	Department of Computer Applications- MCA organized a seminar under Career Guidance and Placement Unit – Ganya titled "IT Beyond Programming "for the students of final year MCA. The seminar was conducted by Mr.Naman Sinha, Tech Lead, Carl Zeiss. He started the session with introducing the students to various domains under which there are jobs being offered. He emphasized how a student or a job aspirant not good in programming can have opportunities in various other IT fields like technical writing, quality assurance, business analyst, sales and marketing etc., he explained in detail about the technologies one needs to learn or master for securing jobs in IOT, AI/ML, DevOps. He explained in details data science and its importance. He emphasized on Cloud Computing being the most important and essential technology one should learn in today's times. Overall, the session was very useful to the students as there were on verge of embarking a software career.

IT Beyond Programming

This seminar was highly informative and engaging. The speaker explains about the broader scope of Information technology beyond just coding. The breakdown of different domains such as frontend, backend and cloud computing was clear and easy to understand, especially for those who are new to IT field. and also the speaker used relatable examples and real-world analogies, which made complex concepts to made easy.

IT BEYOND PROGRAMMING

The session was informative and educational, we learnt a lot about job roles and their requirements and a deep dive into specific topics. It was helpful for our future endeavours.

thankyou
PO3CJ23S126006
Aliya Hassan.

As we were bit confuse about our future goal and roles. He just gave us a brief idea and a road map and made us clear about the vision and role.

Thank You
