24.	Summary of the Event	The first day of the "Write, Revise, Excel: A Technical Writing Workshop" focused on introducing MCA students to the fundamentals of technical writing. The sessions aimed to help students understand the structure and style of professional documentation, research papers, and project reports. The resource persons, including Dr. Mrunalini M and Dr. Chethan Venkatesh from R V Institute of Technology and Management, conducted interactive lectures and practical exercises. Students participated in activities to learn effective writing techniques, citation practices, and common pitfalls to avoid. The day emphasized the importance of clarity, precision, and logical flow in technical communication. The second day built on the foundational knowledge of Day 1 and focused on advanced aspects of revising and improving drafts. Sessions were conducted by experts like Dr. S. Ramkumar and Dr. R. Gobinath from Christ University, who guided students on editing, peer-review methods, and using digital tools for grammar and plagiarism checks. Students engaged in group discussions and received feedback on sample write-ups, helping them enhance their rewriting skills. The workshop concluded with a Q&A session, motivating students to apply the learnings in their academic projects and future publications.
